E-Safety : Choosing the right game for your child

Finding appropriate games for children can seem confusing. But there are lots of games that have been created for children and families. Looking at games' age ratings can help you to work out what's suitable.

All boxed games for consoles and computers within the UK are given a PEGI (Pan-European Game Information) rating of age 3, 7, 12, 16, or 18.

These age ratings tell you who the game is suitable for based on the type of content you'll see when playing. Indicators on the game's packaging explain why it's been given its rating. For example, it'll say if the game shows violence, sex, or horror.

Games on app stores also have age ratings. Google Play, Windows Store, Nintendo eShop and Oculus use the PEGI system. But the Apple App Store and Amazon Apps have their own age ratings. Most games distributors will provide information about the game's content so make sure you read before downloading.

Age ratings are a helpful guide, but each child is different. So it's also useful to think about how mature your child is for their age and the kinds of content they'd feel comfortable with.

U11 Boys Newcastle Football Foundation 28/11/18

Mr Skiving and Mrs Luke accompanied our Year 6 boys to the Football Foundation Competition. The boys played extremely well, scoring 16 goals and only conceding 3. They were very unfortunate not to qualify for the semi-finals because it went to goal difference and one school had a fractionally better result... Well done EVERYONE 😊
